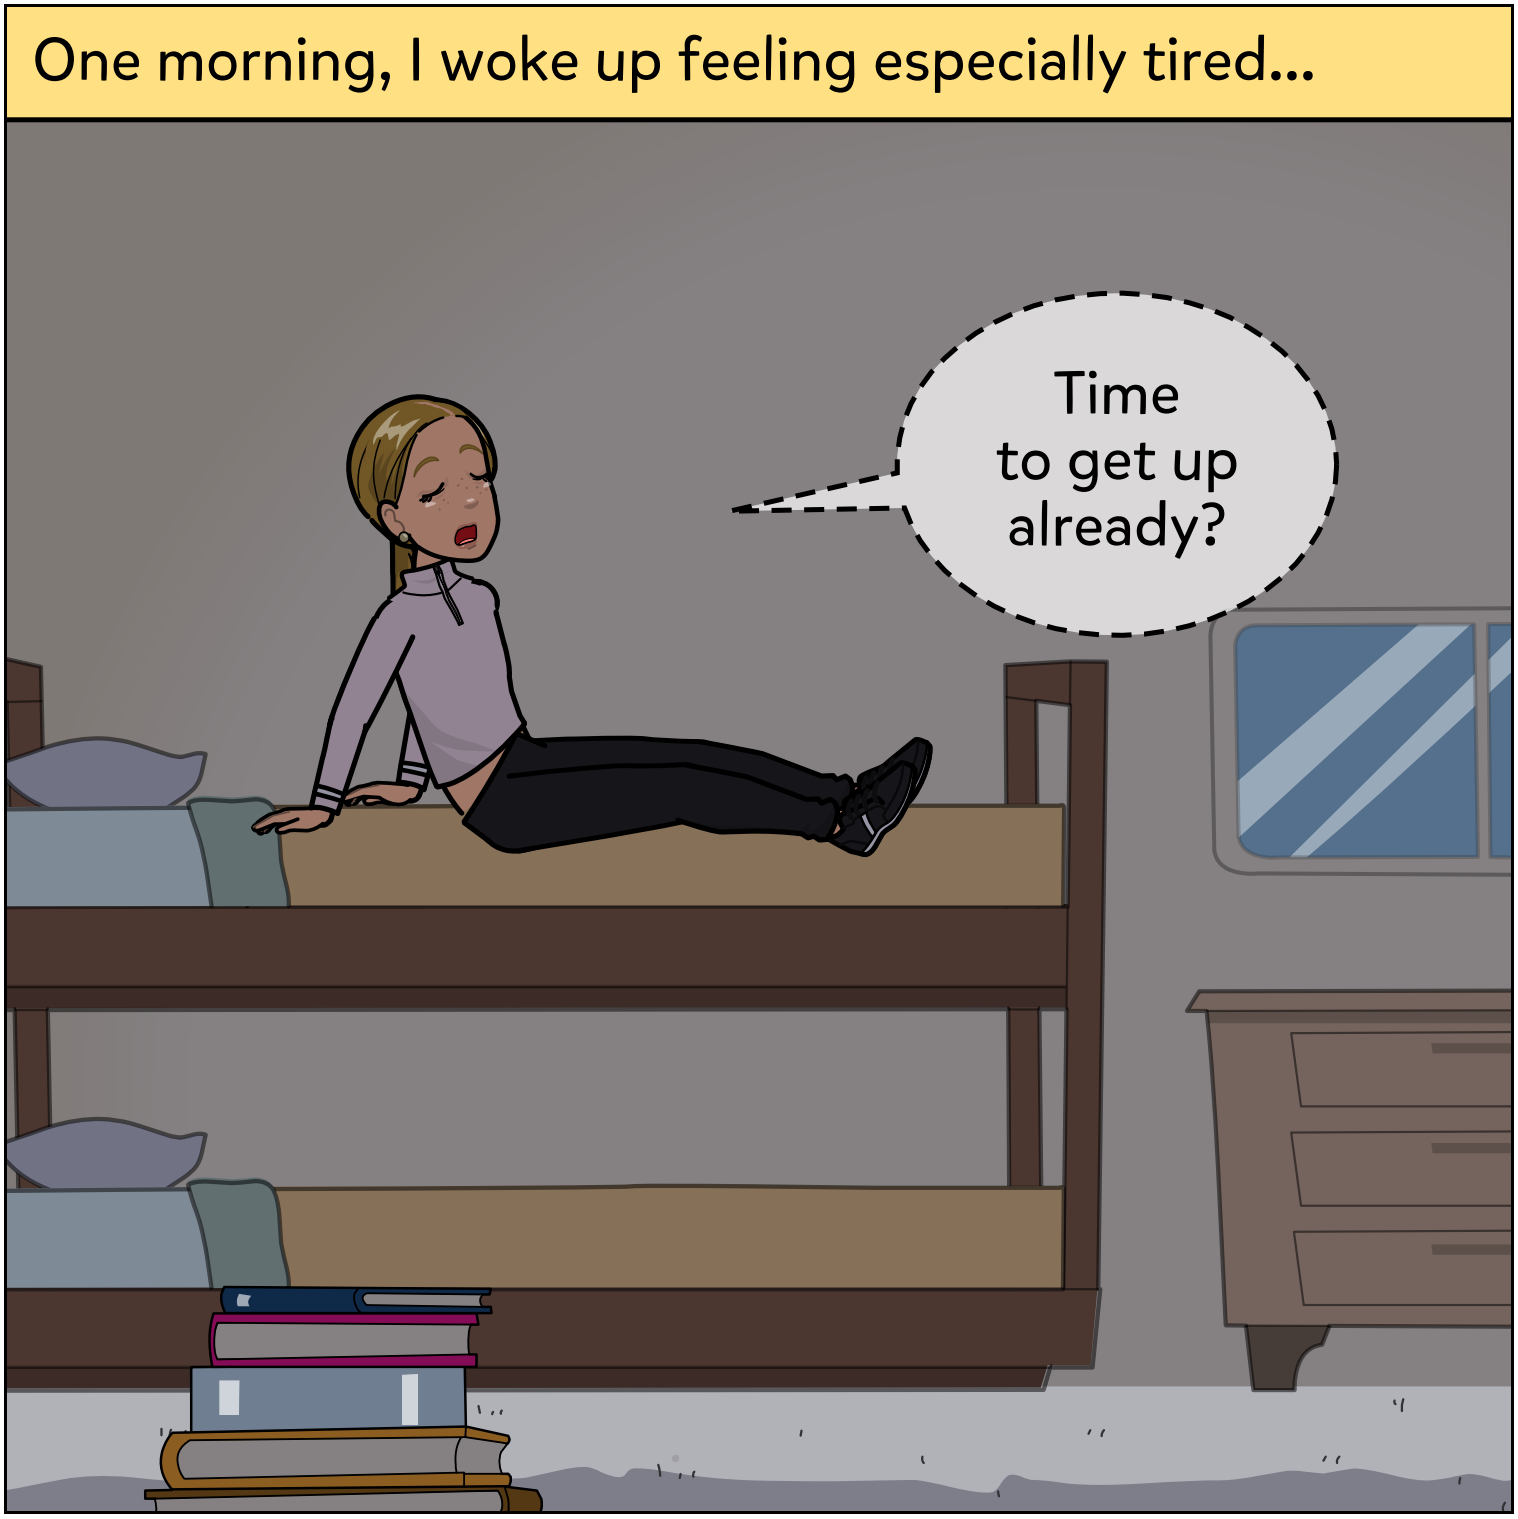
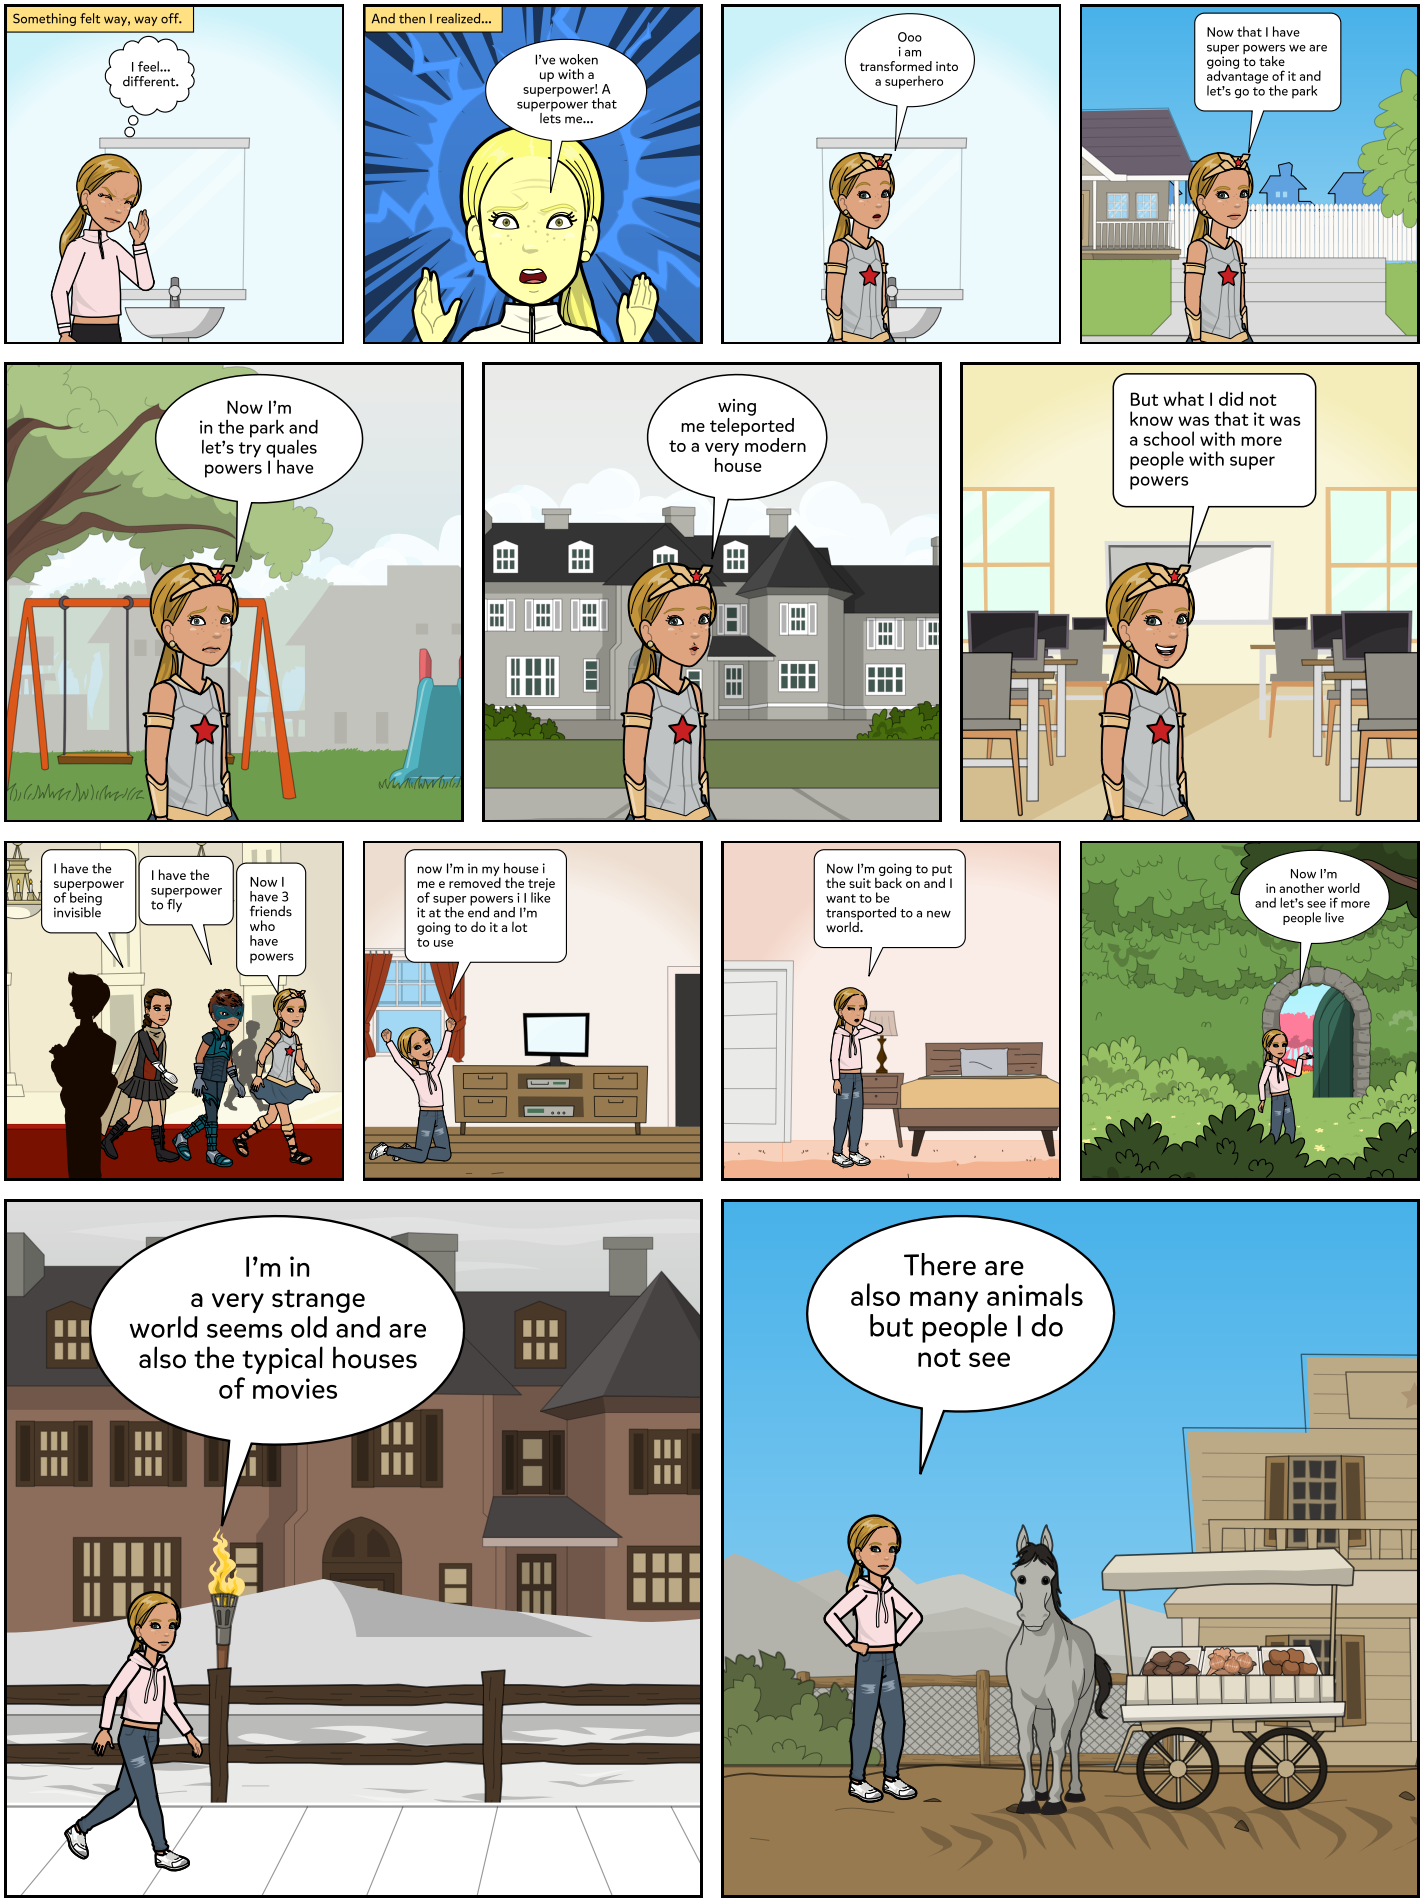
Superpowers

By Elsa





Something felt way, way off.
I feel... different.
And then I realized...
I've woken up with a superpower! A superpower that lets me...
Ooo i am transformed into a superhero
Now that I have super powers we are going to take advantage of it and let's go to the park
Now I'm in the park and let's try quales powers I have wing me teleported to a very modern house
But what I did not know was that it was a school with more people with super powers
I have the superpower of being invisible
I have the superpower to fly
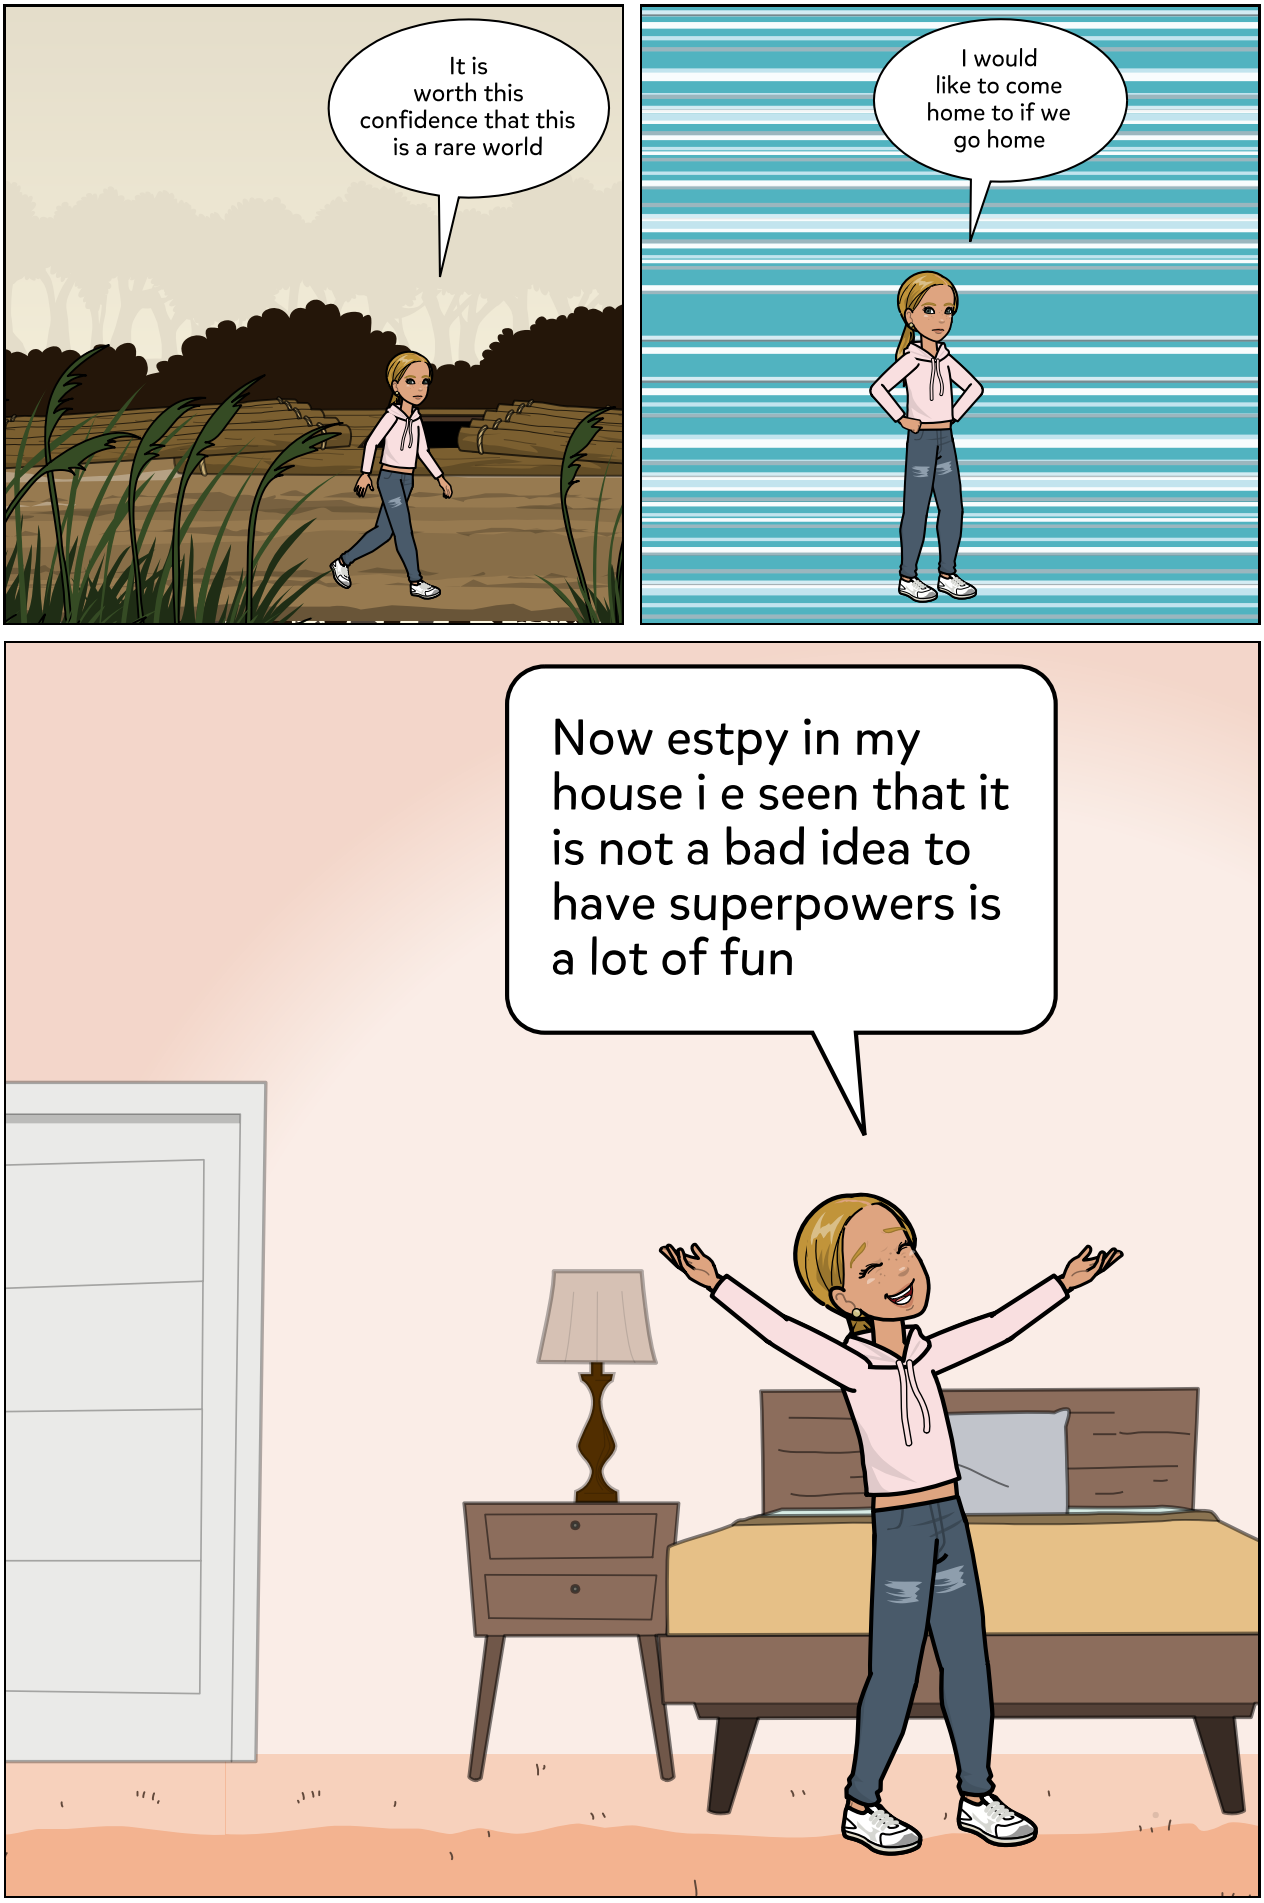
Now I have 3 friends who have powers now I'm in my house i me e removed the treje of super powers i I like it at the end and I'm going to do it a lot to use
Now I'm going to put the suit back on and I want to be transported to a new world.
Now I'm in another world and let's see if more people live
I'm in a very strange world seems old and are also the typical houses of movies
There are also many animals but people I do not see



It is worth this confidence that this is a rare world
I would like to come home to if we go home
Now estpy in my house i e seen that it is not a bad idea to have superpowers is a lot of fun